Town Meeting Completed $42.11 VOTED

The third session of the Town Meeting ended at Midnight, on Monday, and the voters of Wilmington walked out with an estimated $42.11 tax rate. In all the three sessions of the Annual Town Meeting had lasted a total of 21 hours.

The Monday night session was the most controversial, with 648 voters almost packing the gymnasium of the High School. There was voted - the last article on the warrant.

Defeated, by close votes, were articles asking for the sale of liquors at functions, and for the sale of liquors in large restaurants, each without bar privileges.

Also defeated was a proposal to rezone land on Woburn Street belonging to Harold Smith, for apartment housing, and for land at the corner of Lowell Street and Route 93.

were many from the Methodist and Baptist Churches, led by their pastors, and attracted by the two 'liquor' questions on the warrant, and there were many there who were determined to stop any rezoning for apartment housing. The combination of these two factions proved to be just enough to defeat six of the seven articles presented Monday night.

Only the rezoning of a small piece of land on Shawsheen Ave.

The majority of the voters were for rezoning - but a two thirds vote was required, in a zoning change.

More than a few youngsters who now live out of town, but are of Wilmington families, sat by the sidelines, unable to speak or vote.

Attorney Joe Courtney, who carried the fight Monday on all but the Shawsheen Avenue rezoning, left the Town Meeting a defeated and possibly misunderstood man. There was, on the part of the Town Officials, a high regard for his ability, but some of the voters thought otherwise.

Courtney and his supporters, for a moment, thought that they had won the first liquor article - that of allowing the Casa Di Fior to sell beverages at tables. There were 251 Ayes to 246 Nays.

Subsequent recounts changed the tally, with the third vote being 247 Aye and 254 Nay.

The third session had been held on a Monday because of the coming Holy Weekend.

TOWN OF WILMINGTON SECRETARIAL POSITION AVAILABLE

A secretarial position is available in the Wilmington Public schools beginning September, 1970. This opening is for a 52 week year, 8 hours per day at a starting salary of $2.45 per hour. Previous experience will be considered.

Anyone interested in this position should contact the office of the Superintendent of Schools for an application prior to April 3, 1970.

High School students want a 'Student Court'

There were two School Committee meetings, last Thursday, in the Roman House, one being that of the regularly elected School Committee of Wilmington, and the other being the School Committee which was elected by the High School students. They got along very well. The student School Committee was headed by Chairman Seve McCue, with Steven Coolidge, Polly Currier, Nancy London, Joyce MacIver and Kathy Ross as members. Also present was Jim Lynch, who was elected to the student Conservation Commission.

A four item agenda was presented by the students.

Suspension led the list. It was also the longest discussed. Miss MacIver told the School Committee that In-School Suspension, as presently used in Wilmington High School, does not do the job it is intended to do.

A student, she said, must sit in a class room all day, and thus miss his regular classes. Even though a student does get a 75% mark for the day, this still does not seem to be the way to handle discipline. Further, she said, she would prefer some type of Student Court, to handle suspension problems.

Steve McCue presented a guide line for Student Courts. It would consist of two members from each class, with two teachers for advisors. There could probably be someone to defend the accused student, too, he suggested.

This Court, McCue said, should make decisions on anything greater than a three-day suspension.

The students felt that the order of punishment should be: Warnings; Probation; Detention; Removal of Privileges; Suspension, and Expulsion.

Truant students would not be allowed to make up their work.

The whole idea of a Student Court Miss Currier said, was to provide a student an opportunity to speak up in his own defense.

This was in reply to a question from John Brooks, chairman of the School Committee, who wanted to know why the students felt they needed a Student Court. Miss Currier said the students could then speak more freely.

There was a lengthy discussion between the two School Committees as to how such a court could be handled. Questions arose as to whether or not the student body would accept such a proposal, and there were suggestions made as to the types of offenses which could be handled, and the various methods now used to work with the discipline problem.

It was mutually agreed that better communications could be maintained if the students played a part in the handling of discipline.

Miss Diana Imbimbo of the School Committee wanted to know if the students would prefer a Student Court, or a Student Court of Appeal, with the present system staying as it is, and the students having an opportunity to appeal if they felt that the discipline was too unfair. She also asked if the students felt that the system could work?

Somehow her questions did not get answered, because of the frequent change of subject, but Steve McCue thought it was a good idea.

Walter Pierce, Superintendent of Schools, questioned the terminology of the student committee, as to their use of such words as 'crime', 'punishment' and 'court'.

The result was a one day bonanza for the regular RFD carriers on RFD Routes 1 and 3, in Wilmington, on Monday.

Messrs Bailey and Maloney had only about one dozen letters apiece to deliver, when they left the Post Office on Monday morning. Just zip around - and return home!

But it wasn't quite that easy.

Unbelievably, but true, with all the publicity of the Post Office strike, there were postal patrons on both RFD routes who had put mail in post office boxes, for the carriers to pick up!

Both Bailey and Maloney returned to the post office with over 100 letters apiece.

TOWN MEETING
(From Fr. Pg)

Saturday's Session

Article 60 was the big issue on Saturday, which was defeated by being twenty five votes short of the two thirds majority required. Mrs. McKie, chairman of the Planning Board, asked for a recount, and the vote was verified by an even wider margin.

Former Town Counsel Philip Buzzell, former Selectman Rene Larivee and Stanley Webber were the principal opponents.

All three of the principal boards on the podium were for the Flood Plain Zoning, and members of each board urged its passage.

Over twenty voters discussed more than two hours.

Article 13

George Boylen won in his attempt to make the corner of Suncrest Avenue and West Street into town property, for conservation and recreational purposes. Article 13 had been tabled the previous Saturday, but last Saturday when it was again brought up the Finance Committee backed Boylen, and the $1,650 necessary.

A move by Chief of Police Paul Lynch to reconsider his salary lost.

Other Articles

Neither the Finance Committee nor the voters would budge, and grant the TM money to buy a new brush fire truck, and a new sweeper for the Highway Department. In other articles having to do with the purchase of equipment Morris bowed to the dictates of the Finance Committee and the articles were passed over.

Disagreement over facts was voiced, during the discussion of the new fire truck and sweeper. Morris described it as part of the 'first line' equipment which was needed to be brought up to date. Fire Chief Boudreau told the Meeting that the price goes up each year, and since 1968 has climbed $4,000.

Dick Barry of the Finance Committee said he had visited the Fire House, and found that the truck could last another two years. The tank and the engine had been replaced within the past five years.

The disagreement on the sweeper found the Finance Committee critical because it was only three years old, and it was in vain that Below: Mr. Webber and Mrs. McKie, as the lady decides to let him answer his own questions.

Sterling Morris and Bob Palmer explained that it worked under unusual conditions of dirt and dust, with oil changes needed every week. Barry of the Finance Committee said it been purchased for a seven year use, and the town agreed with him.

The Wilmington Grange property on Wildwood Street was purchased for school purposes. Last year's vote had not mentioned the purpose and it had to be revoked. The town is also giving land in exchange, on lower Main Street, near the Woburn line.

Street acceptances proved to be no difficulty, except in the case of Hopkins Street, which the Town Meeting turned down, after there had been remarks about the land being taken from only one side of the street.

TM Morris severely questioned the wisdom of rejecting the street. He said the street was only 18 to 20 feet wide in places, and that school buses would be using the street, which he described as a 'hazard to life'. Town Engineer Arthur Harding agreed.

The article was for road layout only, with $11,700 being involved only for the damages of the land taking necessary.

The town authorized that there be a question on the November ballots over the discontinuance of MBTA service, under Article 47.

MRS. VERENCE HENSEY: Of Andover St., spoke several times during the Town Meeting. She is shown discussing the Apartment issue, of which she was in favor.

Banda told the voters that the assessments against the town were 'getting out of hand', and that the MBTA has a $93 million dollar deficit this year.

Urban Renewal Voted

Article 53, the Urban Redevelopment of a 40 acre tract of land on Eames Street had no real difficulty. Chairman Bob Leahy of the Wilmington Re-development Authority told the voters that the $200,000 bond issue would be repaid easily, and that the town would make a handsome profit, up to $100,000 in new taxes. He expects the work to be completed within 3 to 5 years.

Vacations for police and firemen after twenty years of service was voted down.

The town voted the sum of $5000 for a study of drug problems in the Wilmington area. The article was amended to read 'monthly reports' and also that the reports should go to the School Committee, in addition to the Board of Selectmen and Board of Health.

Some News is Good

Many of the older generation today, and by that is meant someone over 25 or so, feel that things are bad in this world because some of the youngsters choose to go around in sloppy clothing, unshaven and unshorn.

There are many variously worded or unworded beliefs that the world is going to the dogs, as a result.

One phrase which is being beaten to death is 'generation gap'.

The fact is that many of the youngsters of today are living in a world of quickening tempo. They are trying to explore, to find new ways.

Their fathers before them tried to do this to - many of them emigrated to a new world just because of this. The actions of today's youngsters are really normal, and this column has little accord with those who berate the upcoming generation.

Just read this week's Town Crier account of the meeting of the School Committee with some of these youngsters. They are exploring - they seek to better things in the schools of Wilmington. It is good to know they are thinking, and perhaps the result may be an improvement in the school system.

Give the youngsters a chance. Repression is not always good, even if it is the result of hard earned experience.

Some News is Good

Readers of this column will undoubtedly note that there is a letter from a 15 year old girl, in this issue, written about the trash problems of Wilmington.

This is to tell Ellen Marie that there are others concerned.

The world is filled with people who go around discarding cans and bottles by the wayside, and it is also filled with people, fewer in number, true - who pick up that trash, and try to keep their neighborhoods clean.

Once a year the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce sponsors a Clean Up Week, and the Town of Wilmington helps by providing trucks, etc., and labor Boy Scouts, and interested citizens do their part, in this drive. It generally takes place just before Memorial Day.

But this leaves 51 weeks. Ellen Marie may observe, and she would be right.

Frank Tuttle of Carson Avenue is one of the concerned people who will agree with Ellen Mr. Tuttle is the man who went through the Town Park and catalogued all the ferns and flowers there. He does other things, many of them unsung. Now he has volunteered to head just such a clean up - perhaps on a more permanent basis than does the Chamber of Commerce.

It would seem that Mr. Tuttle may have a volunteer aide in the person of Ellen Marie. And perhaps the Chamber of Commerce can enlist him and the young lady, in a more permanent status than the Once A Year campaign.

Some news is good.

Apologies to Two Ladies

This is to apologize to two ladies who wrote letters to the Town Crier last week, which letters never made the pages of this paper. One of the letters was about Flood Plain Zoning, and the other about the Town Meeting actions of Mr Vitale.

Blame it, ladies, on the Town Crier's new Photon.

It is a wonderful machine, quite complicated, which sets type electronically. It will be several weeks yet, before it is mastered - and in the meantime the Town Crier is not just the shambles of your - it is a Super Shambles^{1/8}.

Somehow, in the resulting mix up, those two letters were lost. Blame it on the Town Crier's enthusiasm for producing Super Shambles, ladies, and accept the apologies, please.

The Next Chairman

Next week the Board of Selectmen are scheduled to choose a new chairman, for the coming year, and it might well be a three cornered affair.

Attorney Jim Banda is now finishing his year as Chairman. There are rumors that he would like to hold the post for a second year.

It is perhaps no secret that Jim Miceli would like the post. During the past week he has been making sounds that indicate he is a candidate for the State Legislature, this November. Being the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen has its advantages in such an event.

By the normal course of action Bruce MacDonald should be the Chairman, everything else being equal, but as of this moment it seems that Mrs Drew is the only Selectmen who wants to keep things normal, other than, perhaps, Mr. MacDonald.

Miceli is a Jaycee, and he now has another Jaycee on the Board of Selectmen, Carl Backman. While the Jaycees are only a small percentage of the town's population, they do sometimes wield an unusual amount of political power. Thus one may expect Mr. Backman to be in the corner of Mr. Miceli.

If Banda is not a candidate his may well be the deciding vote, next Monday.

Sterling Morris

The Selectmen are not exactly a happy bunch of people at the moment - at least some of them. Sterling Morris, the Town Manager, made them unhappy during the third session of the Town Meeting, when he went and sat by himself, behind the Planning Board, during some of the intense fighting. The chairman had to order Morris to resume his seat with the Selectmen.

Morris is a man who does not want to get mixed in politics. The voters of Wilmington knew this, instinctively, during the Town Meeting, and his popularity increased even more, as a result. But when Morris sat out the political questions, the Selectmen had a different idea.

It used to be that only Jim Miceli was mad at Morris. Now how the other selectmen feel is a question.

It will probably all disappear in the coming weeks, but it is worth noting.

John Callan

Attorney John Callan did all right by himself in the Town Meeting, as the Moderator of Wilmington. In the first two sessions he was more than superb. And, while he was probably just as good in the third session, there were voters who were unhappy.

His high point was when he told the individual who was making so much noise that he would have to quiet. That was the most popular moment of the meeting, and the most highly applauded.

But when there was trouble over the vote counting - even though Callan was leaning over backwards to be fair, he ran into trouble. More than one voter was unhappy, as a result.

Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

I am a 15 year old resident of this Town, and I feel -- that the litter situation is at it's worst. Something should be done about it. First, the streets should be cleaned more often; barrells should be placed along the roads for trash. Signs should be posted - stating a fifty dollar fine for littering, and this should be enforced. On Eames St, there is refuse everywhere. Beer cans, bottles, papers, which certainly makes Wilmington look disgusting.

Don't the People of Wilmington care? We teenagers do! What can we do to help? There must be someone in this town who can do something about this problem.

Ellen Marie LaFollette

To the Voters of Wilmington:

No Apartments. A slap in the face to our servicemen of Wilmington, born and schooled here. No apartment to start their lives after giving so much for us on the Field of Battle.

Remember our Older Citizens gave in their lifetime to make Wilmington what it is. Is it too much to ask that they may remain with old friends?

The familiar temperature of 98.6 degrees is not always normal.

Today physicians tend to consider a range between 97 and 99 orally, a 'normal' zone.

One reason is that body temperature has its ups and downs during any 24 hour period. It is lowest (97 or less) from 2 to 5 AM when your' sleeping.

It jumps to perhaps 99.5 by the late afternoon or early evening. Also, it is likely to be a little higher after meals.

Beyond this, individuals vary in their natural, customary temperature.

Thermometers and other medical needs are available at SILVER LAKE PHARMACY 52 Main St., Tel. 658-4617. Cosmetics by Clairol and Others. Cards for all occasions. Open 9-10 EVERY day.

HELPFUL HINT: Kitchen tools need oiling? Apply a little glycerin with an eye dropper.

SILC Hears the MBTA

Representatives of SILC, the Suburban Inter-Town Liason Committee, met with Joseph Kelley, Comptroller and Treasurer of the MBTA on March 18th. The only Wilmington representative to be present was Gordon Hayward of Thrush Road.

Unlike the meeting of several months past, with representatives of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, this meeting proceeded smoothly, and the members of SILC were impressed by the co-operation of Mr. Kelley.

Mr. Kelley told of the formation of the MBTA, and how it had arrived at its present position. He also handed out a schedule of the costs of the MBTA system, and how the costs are divided into the 79 cities and towns in the system. Wilmington's 1970 Estimated Assessment was shown at $92,342, an increase of $91,667 from the figure of 1964.

In 1964 there were a total of 14 towns and cities in the MTA, the predecessor of the present MBTA. It was at that time that the MBTA was created, and enlarged to include 79 towns and cities. It was at that time that the railroads leading into Boston, such as the Boston & Maine, became a part of the MBTA.

At the present time the MBTA is dealing with 27 unions, some of them having been taken over from the Eastern Mass Street Railway, which was acquired in 90% of the cost of the MBTA services comes from the proceeds of the cigarette tax, which Kelley expects will dwindle in the future. The remaining 10% is assessed to the communities.

On the B&M service, 25% of the charges to a given community are based on a commuter count, and the remaining on a boarder count, allocated where possible by use of auto registration numbers for the community in which the commuter resides. Once a year the MBTA tries to check registration plates in the parking areas near the MBTA stations.

As a reply to a question by Hayward, Kelley said that a Wilmington car parked near the Reading MBTA station would thus have a commuter charged to Wilmington. Hayward wanted to know then about New Hampshire cars. Those, Kelley said, have to be charged where they board - there is no alternative.

On Bus service Kelley said that 50% of the charges are based on the population of the town, and the other 50% on where the losses occur.

All of the fares which are collected go to employees' wages and fringe benefits. Fixed costs are covered by the towns and cities, plus the federal subsidy.

To date the MBTA has received $108 millions in federal funds, the money for the Boston area being the largest of any in the United States, for rapid transit systems.

In answer to questions Kelley said that towns can get out of a part of the services of the MBTA but never completely. This is because of the bond issues which are covered by the 79 towns.

Bus service can be voted out, he said.

Flood Plain Zoning
Flood Plain Rezoning was the first item of business after the supper recess on Saturday.

Armed with a number of maps of Wilmington, which were projected on the wall of the gymnasium, Mrs Madelyn McKie, chairman of the Planning Board, used her full allotted ten minutes to convince the voters of the wisdom of the proposal. She did not succeed.

She was backed in her efforts by the Selectmen and Finance Committee.

Former Town Counsel Philip Buzzell spoke against the Flood Plain Districts. Buzzell described the article as one which would remove all rights of the property owners without just compensation. This, he said, is morally wrong, legally unjust, and unconstitutional. The proposal, he said, went far beyond the legitimate objectives of the health and safety of the residents of the community.

Renee Larivee, former Selectman, said he was for conservation 100%, but that there were areas to be cleaned up first. Wildwood St. was one place mentioned, in his talk. Contamination comes when water is backed up, and the drains are clogged, he told the Town Meeting. Strong applause followed.

It was Stanley Webber who stole the show. He asked Mrs McKie three questions, which she yielded back to him. Webber then said he just did have the figures to answer his questions.

The total number of parcels of land which would be affected, he said, were 376; last year's assessment for the land was $2 millions, and although only eight percent of the town's land is affected by the flood plain, this would mean 876 acres.

Every year twice as many American families buy older or previously occupied houses than they do new homes.

Before buying an older house, make sure that the house you choose is a good buy. Too often the buyer of an older house finds that what originally appeared to be exactly what he wants and needs is nothing more than a millstone around his neck.

Hidden costs of repair may abound and should be thoroughly checked. There are advantages in purchasing an old house. They contain nearly twice as much space as a new house in the same price range, and there are at least twice as many older houses than new houses for sale.

You'll have a greater opportunity to buy the supplies you need when you shop at A B SWEZEY, INC., 615 Main St 658-2051. TOWN MEETING (Fr, Pg. 7) the Flood Plain Zoning there. He was sponsored by the Planning Board. Sudbury's Flood Plain Zoning is that which Mr. Buzzell had told the Planning Board that they should use, although this was not brought out in the meeting.

Later in the meeting one of the high lights was the attempt to rezone land behind the Esso Station on Main Street. It too, provided a highlight.

Attorney Simon Cutter represented the owner, Bernard Res-tuccia. Surprisingly the Planning Board approved the article.

Cutter said that the rezoning was for only a portion of the original proposal, and that part of the land was not to be rezoned, as it was in an area where the new Shaw-sheen Avenue bridge may be built.

His article lost for several reasons, but the noteworthy one was the snicker that followed a remark of Mr. Gillis of the Planning Board.

There had just been the long fight over Flood Plain Rezoning. When Mr. Gillis stood up and said that the land was 'only swamp' he out-did himself.

Bernard Brady rose and asked if he had understood what Gillis said - and then everyone understood.

It was like a pebble dropped in a pond, - except that the waves grew larger, as they passed thru the Town Meeting. Ten seconds after Brady had asked his question everyone in the Town Meeting was enjoying a real good snicker.

DR RANENDRA NATH DE, a native of India, was an interested spectator on Monday night. He is a veterinarian, and works with Dr. Harvey Skolnick, in the animal hospital on Burlington Avenue.

BASEBALL

Thirty boys have signed up as candidates for the 1970 Wilmington High Baseball Team. Under the leadership of Veteran Baseball Coach Joe Gilligan, the boys began formal workouts in the Gym last week in preparation for the April 15th seasonal opener against Tewksbury.

With a few lettermen returning and a green pitching staff, Coach Gilligan is cautiously optimistic about the coming season. The Varsity finished with a 3-13 record in the Conference last season, and an improved slate would be an early goal for the team.

Practice games are slated, weather permitting, for April 1 at Stoneham; April 4 vs Austin; April 6 vs Stoneham; and April 10 vs Austin.

Town League Basketball

The Merchants won the playoff championship of the Adult Division of the Town League when they staged a fourth period comeback to beat Sweetheart 108-91 in the final game at the High School Gym last week.

The Merchants led at half time 53-44, but Sweetheart rolled up a 30-18 third period edge to surge in front 74-71. Sweetheart still remained on top early in the fourth period 82-77, but then at the 3 mark the Merchants exploded for 10 straight points to move ahead to stay. The winners bombed Sweetheart, 37-17, in the final frame.

Gene Manley was the top scorer for the Merchants with 30 points followed by Barry Shehan with 28. Billy Walls 25, and Bob McNabb 22. For Sweetheart, it was Larry Minton with 27, Irion Patterson 19, Ed Deherty 17, Dan Wenner 14, and Stan Sheltra 10. Deherty had eleven points in the third spurt for the losers.

Bedell's topped Newhouse 80-72 in the consolation game last week. Lennie Gustus tallied 31 points, George Pratt 18, and Paul Dearborn 14, for Bedell's. Jim Men-ini tossed in 24, Steve Donahue 21 and Dave Orndorff 15 for the losers.

BOTH SIDES

SIDE 1

Torn shingles, peeling paint, broken glass, certainly do not add to the appearance or value of your property. Also, minor home repairs can become costly problems if neglected.

SIDE 2

A home in good condition can be your most valuable financial asset. And it's so easy to keep it that way with the help of a low cost home repair or improvement loan

Bill Hooper Chairman of Planning Board

William Hooper of Marcella Road was elected the chairman of the Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday evening, after the Town Meeting.

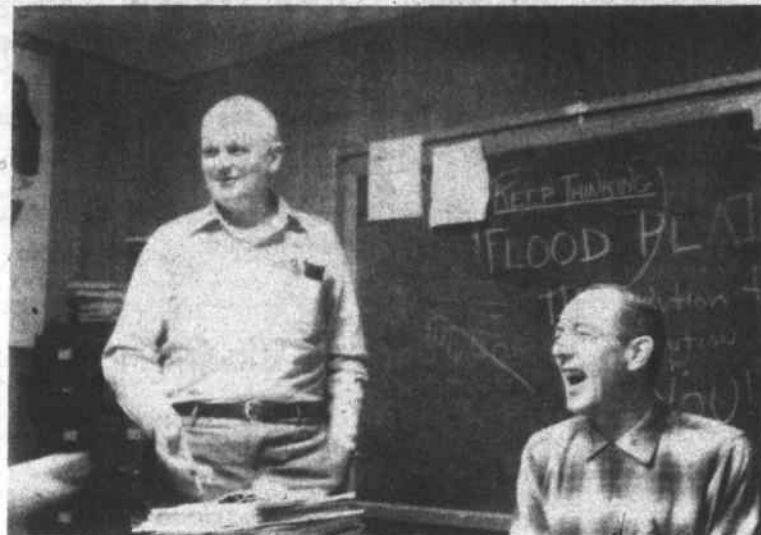

At the same time Morton Grant of Concord Street was elected the Secretary.

Mr. Grant immediately joked that the board had elected two 'Maine Republicans' who were also Ham Radio Operators. The two men are probably the only Republicans on the board.

Mrs. McKie, the former Chairman, requested and was assigned to a study of several projects. The projects include: A Citizen's Advisory Committee for the 701 Plan under study; Flood Plain Zoning; Low Income Housing; and Research on an Open Space Demonstration project.

Mr. Grant, in addition to being the secretary, was elected the 'liason officer' to the Board of Appeals. As such it will be his duty to attend Board of Appeals hearings.

Gillis announced that he intended to 'look into' the truth in advertising law, following a statement that he had made in the Town Meeting.

The board was visited by James Miller and Ted Clark, of the MAPC (Metropolitan Area Planning Council). Mr. Miller is the Senior Planner for the MAPC, and the purpose of the visit was to gather data for the SILC studies, of which Wilmington is a part. Both men were able to get their questions answered without trouble, and Gillis pointed with pride to the many maps on the wall, the results of studies by the board, and said that they have compiled a mass of statistics, during the past 15 years.

A letter from the Board of Water Commissioners, relative to the proposed real estate sub-division of the Eames Farm, was received.

It said that, for some unknown reason, one of the wells in the new and nearby wellfield was too close to the property line of the Eames Farm, but that the engineers (Dana Perkins & Sons) had agreed to give land to the town, to properly protect the wellfield. There will be a full four hundred feet between the well and the nearest property line, as a result.

NOW IT'S THE TOWN HALL ANNEX: Built in 1833 as a Center School, and transferred to the duties of being a Public Library about the turn of the century, the little old schoolhouse off the Common is now the Town Hall Annex, where are located the offices of the Building Inspector and the Board of Health.

(From Fr. Page)

He felt that the terminology used was of a negative nature, rather than with a positive approach to the problem.

McCue felt that the terminology could be changed, and that a Student School Committee should be open to suggestions from the School Committee.

William Fay of the School Committee stated that, when dealing with discipline problems, thought must be given to the consideration of the problems of the individual.

Walter McNamara said that the philosophy of the School Committee was that each and every part of the school should be a positive force. If all of the problems were to be handled by a student court, he said, the Guidance Department and the administration would have to be considered as some part of the court, because they would have to work with other agencies, to solve some of the problems arising from discipline.

Pierce asked the students if they would consider the rotating of the students and the advisors to their court, to give everyone an idea of the problems, and to provide better communications.

Kathy Ross agreed that rotation of students and teachers would be a good idea, and it would give more exposure of the problems in the school.

Other Suggestions

The students were of a general agreement that it would be useful to have a course on auto mechanics in the school curriculum.

They also suggested that some place should be provided where the boys could work on their cars, in the evening hours. This, they felt, would provide a form of recreation to fill their time, other than those that now exist in town. They could bring their own tools.

Other course suggestions were: Marine Biology, Psychology, and a course that would help a student to study for test, and write a term paper or an essay. These suggestions were made several times.

Another suggestion and comment was that a course should be offered to help a student take the College Boards, as the marks on the boards on English seemed to be lower than in other subjects.

The students said on leaving that they would research the idea of a Student Court further, with other towns that are using the system. They will return with their ideas at another meeting.
